- Status changed from In Progress to Blocked

Issues with dependencies; Need more feedback on creating the DB used by tt-rss as its back-end and editing/adding apache config file. Thus far I have the bare minimum done for the plugin to show up in FreeNAS.

Aaron, what exactly is needed here?

As far as I understand these are issues of how to set up the plugin (figuring out what you need to do to setup apache and what not), not really iocage plugin issues, am I right?

It doesn't seem something Brandon is responsible for (his guess is as good as anyone else).

Brandon have other responsibilities to deal with right now, if it takes more than a few minutes of questions or you can't figure it out, can we re-target this to 11.3, please?

#11 - 04/18/2018 12:27 PM - Dru Lavigne

Aaron: please reach out to Martin to discuss and then determine if this is doable for 11.2 or should be punted to 11.3.

I've made the initial set up for the artifact repo (<https://github.com/freenas/iocage-plugin-ttrss>).

I don't have the knowledge to actually get it working (may require some programming knowledge). Currently it returns an error (see attached file) when trying to install on latest nightly (FreeNAS-11.2-MASTER-201806130421).

It seems that it can't find `/mnt/iocage/.plugin_index/tt-rss.json`. However, the json file name is ttrss.json .....not tt-rss.json
