Description
I'm testing the new UI with a system updated to the latest FreeNAS-11-Nightly version. Navigating to Account/Users in both old and new UI shows many more displayed columns in the old UI list: Full Name, E-mail, Disable password login, Lock user, Permit Sudo, and Microsoft Account. Should both interface options display the same information?

The table on the new UI might be too crowded with these options but I will pass it to VB to review
