The console modal covers up the tooltip instructions for using it, but since the instructions are simple, I put them in the console itself and made them dynamic. This is needed, also, b/c the console is available no matter where you are in the app, not just where the instructions are.

This issue can't be tested until <https://redmine.ixsystems.com/issues/26481> , Saving System-Advanced settings shouldn't validate serial choice if not enabled, is fixed.
