

FreeNAS - Bug #37958

Hide VNC option if VM has existing VNC device

07/12/2018 04:51 PM - Brandon Schneider

Status: Done
Priority: No priority
Assignee: Vaibhav Chauhan
Category: GUI (new)
Target version: 11.2-BETA2
Seen in: Master - FreeNAS Nightlies	Needs Merging: No
Severity: Medium	Needs Automation: No
Reason for Closing:	Support Suite Ticket: n/a
Reason for Blocked:	Hardware Configuration:
Needs QA: No	ChangeLog Required: No
Needs Doc: No
Description Currently, we assign the VNC device to slot 29 in the middleware plugin, so if there are two (or more) VNC devices they clash as both cannot occupy the same port. If the VM already has a VNC device, the web UI should not allow them to add another one. Supporting multiple VNC devices is not allowed at this time.

Tested on latest nightlies (FreeNAS-11.2-MASTER-201807200857).

Method of testing:

1. Created a FreeBSD VM with the latest nightlies FreeNAS .iso
2. During the process I made sure the Enable VNC option was checked.
3. After creation I clicked the Add plus symbol and found that the VNC type was not in the drop down list. See attached screenshot.

Docs PR: [angulargui branch] <https://github.com/freenas/freenas-docs/pull/255> . Investigation shows this change is not reflected in the legacy UI, so no master branch PR is necessary.
