Description
System:Advanced -> Swap size in GiB
Setting to 0 disables swap creation completely. This is STRONGLY DISCOURAGED (caps is from the previous in-field text)
If swap size is set to 0 an error dialog should open that the user has to acknowledge that they are aware doing so is strongly discouraged.
Perhaps red warning text under the field that persists as long as the swap size is set to 0?
The tooltip will be updated soon.
Can we also shorten the field size to only accept 2 digits? Unless people are using > 99GiB of swap?
