Rsync bug fix

This commit fixes a bug in rsync plugin which made the validation for rsync fail. The issue stemmed from a probable asyncssh version upgrade which started checking for known hosts file via an environment variable which wasn't set when middlewared was running in daemon mode.

Ticket: #42048

Isn't it something from middleware side? The global path '/.ssh/known_hosts' looks suspicious to me, just not sure where it comes from.

Waqar can you try to reproduce this? Seems like another regression on rsync tasks?
