Description In the webUI, under the "manual" option for creating a zpool the dialog box is extremely confusing. When using that dialog box to create a zpool, there are a list of disks that you can highlight with a mouse-click and then there is a list of disks that have radio boxes to choose what type of zfs device that disk should be.

History

#1 - 12/21/2018 10:05 AM - William Grzybowski

- Category changed from GUI (new) to Middleware
- Assignee changed from Release Council to William Grzybowski
- Target version changed from Backlog to TrueNAS 11.1-U7

This has been always this way. I dont see much we can do it other than completely remove Manual Volume?

What are your thoughts?
